

Ali Sakr

New York Red Bulls

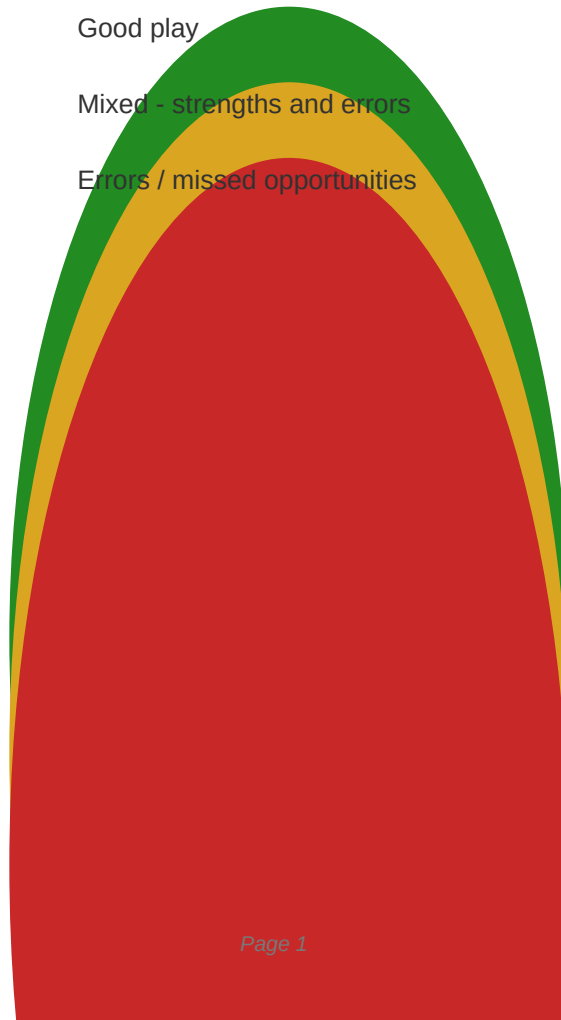

Session 041 Review

Rating key

Good play

Mixed - strengths and errors

Errors / missed opportunities

Final Third

-
- Play 1 Execution: poor first-time cross.
 - Play 2 Left-foot control, good 1v1; poor finishing execution.
 - Play 3 Left-foot control, still gets out of trouble. Poor finish. Far side had stronger options.
 - Play 4 Space to drive; teammate in a potential overload. Right-foot control sets up a good 1v1.
 - Play 5 Ball too far from the body; LB ball-watching - good chance to penetrate in behind.
 - Play 6 Again too far from the LB - no penetration option.
 - Play 7 Poor control, but escapes the press. Could have carried further; the pass was not necessarily wrong.
 - Play 8 Inside channel - keep the ball closer on the dribble.

Attacking Transition

Play 1 Opportunity to run in behind the LB.

Play 2 Why not go wide? Possible numerical advantage on that side.

Play 3 Left-foot control.

Play 4 Could carry longer, commit the defender, and delay to allow a teammate's run in behind.

Play 5 Good tackle; ball carried too far from the foot invites dispossession.

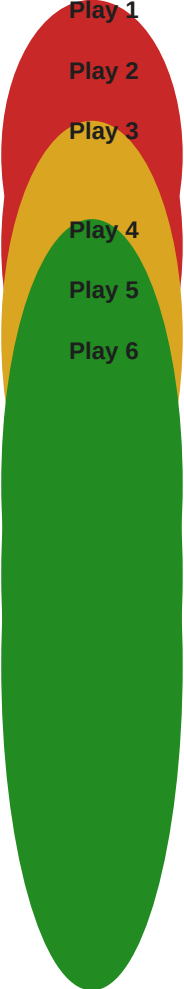

Play 6 & 7 Teammates driving with the ball away from the foot and being dispossessed.

Build-Up

Second-phase build-up - progressing into the final third.

-
- Play 1 Spot the teammate already in space; LB ball-watching - penetration opportunity.
 - Play 2 Feet or space? Teammate advantaged - use that for outside-to-inside; did not occupy between the lines.
 - Play 3 Dropping deep to build. Chance to break between the lines or use third-man movement - offered neither.
 - Play 4 Teammate advantaged wide. Why not use the wide channel?

Defensive Phase

-
- Play 1 Aggressive press to block the pass - beaten on the dribble.
 - Play 2 Poor counter-press after turnover - beaten on the dribble.
 - Play 3 Protect space rather than over-committing on the opponent's body; good effort to stay in the play to the end.
 - Play 4 Good counter-press - aggressive block of the passing lane.
 - Play 5 Good counter-press - delay and disrupt the opponent's transition.
 - Play 6 Good effort - chase and press to force the mistake.